Canadian Legion Elected Officers

The local branch of the Legion held their annual meeting on Tuesday, the main business of the evening being the election of officers for 1929. The occasion is one on which the spell binders give a display of their talents, and full advantage was taken. Somebody was always requesting the floor to get on his views, and it is suggested that the reason that so many want to get on their feet was not so much to let the world in general know what their opinions were, but just because they found the chair cold to sit on.

The merits of the many contenders for the various offices were by no means hidden; their orators delivered their forth, even going to the length of extolling virtues never possessed, which caused the sub ject of discourse to become speeches, and with the person who was so eager to help them in a much warmer climate. At one period matters came close to a new war. The English and Scotch lined up the opposing parties, giving great sallies of wit. Commander D. N. Garkner, R.L.S. No. 1, led the forces from the north with distinction. The Yomem of England were under the leadership of the noted leader of The More River Brigade, Comrade F. Swetman. Their Adm. Camp was Comrade P. M. Gray and P. J. Dunn.

Towards the head of the battle the Welsh came to the aid of their neighbours, and evened things up. The Irish, contrary to custom, remained neutral.

Searching enquiries were made about some "nigger in the wood pile" and several comrades, whose reputation would suffer badly if their names were mentioned, had a hard time denying and evading the righteousness of a black offspring.

As the smoke of battle grew thicker and the room warmer with the heated remarks fired in salvo, an armistice was called, and the following list of candidates issued from G.O.A. President, Comrade S. H. Crowther, re-elected; 1st Vice-President, A. H. Gregory; 2nd Vice-President, A. P. Gregory; Secretary-Treasurer, S. Patterson, re-elected; Executive Committee, Comrades J. S. Gunn, E. Swetman and P. J. Chadwick; Hall Manager, Comrade G. P. Kearns, re-elected; Assistant Hall Manager, E. Swetman. There was a lively bid for the position on the Hall Committee, between C. Keeling and P. R. Price, and after many blows were exchanged, the fort was held by C. Keeling. The Entertainment Committee took some sorting out, but they were untangled and assumed the lineup of Comrades E. Swetman, J. A. French, P. J. Chadwick, P. Wright, M. Baird, W. Springthorpe, G. H. Patrick, C. Keeling.

The Relief Committee remained unopposed with Comrade T. E. Wright, R. P. Gray, T. B. Winter and J. Swanson. Reception Committee, Comrades G. H. Patrick and T. B. Winter. Investigation Committee, Comrades E. Swetman and J. A. French, both committees re-elected.

The evening continued in a jolly and terminating under a heavy smoke barrage. The various nationalities made no attempt to adjust their grievances, but indulged in singing.

Local Jottings :-

A survey of current publications places the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal in the lead for variety and quality of reading. Always recognized as a steady guide and counselor to the farmer the survey proclaims it almost as equally popular in urban homes.

At the bowling match between Strathmore and Standard at Robbie Hamby's, Strathmore succeeded in winning two out of three games, but Jean Kimmelt blames the loss of one of the games on Jim Swanson, who persisted in pertering of a big turkey supper before the game, hence was away off in time, such as he usually plays. A return match will be played at Standard next week, and it is believed that Jim will see that Swanson is in proper condition, then watch our smoke.

A. V. McFarland and Fred Anderson chaperoned the Junior Hockey Club to Gleichen on Tuesday night, where the local lads met the Gleichen boys in a smart and interesting game of hockey which ended in a 3-2-3. A petition from a number of the merchants was presented requesting that a By-law be passed making Wednesday afternoons from February 6th to August 14th a holiday, which met with the approval of the Council, and By-law No. 131 was accordingly read and passed.

The question of cutting ice on the lake was introduced, and it was decided that no one shall cut same without securing a permit, and make proper protection against accident. The matter was left in the hands of the Mayor to look after.

Circuit accounts totaling about one hundred dollars, were passed on to the Finance Committee for payment if found correct.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the locating of the extra ten street lights, but finally upon motion the report of the Special Committee appointed for this purpose was adopted.

At the close, Mayor Strathmore expressed his thanks to the Councillors for their close attention to the affairs of the Town during the year, and his appreciation of the support given to him during his term of office, and a general harmony that has existed during that period.

The Secretary-Treasurer very extensively reported that approximately $7,000 in cash in hand at the close of the year, which he thought would carry them over until the new taxes begin to come in in June. He thought this was very satisfactory, remembering the fact that the mill rate had been reduced in 1928, and several heavy expenses during the year had been paid.

Sport Notes

ENTERS REIGH COUNT
IN ASCOT GOLD CUP

CHICAGO—As sound and speedy as ever, Reigh Count, the big Hertz colt, will begin his next journey for fame and fortune headed toward England and the Ascot Gold Cup race.

The Kentucky Derby winner, and recognized 3-year-old champion of America for 1928, will be shipped to New York where he will board the transport Minnewaska which sails for Liverpool. He will have nearly six months to acclimate himself to English weather and feed before the race. Jockey Chick Lang, who rode the "Big Red Head" in all his American triumphs, will be up in the Ascot race.

BOUGHT WIDOW GRATTAN

NEW YORK—The most important of the post-season sales of the horse horse world is that of the bay pacing mare Widow Grattan, 2:01, which was recently purchased by A. G. Lord of New York, N.Y., and has been transferred to the stable of Will Hodson, who has raced Bert Abbe, Mille W. and other fast performers. The New York horse fancier, while the price paid for the mare has not been officially announced, it is well known that it was in the neighborhood of the $25,000 mark.

Widow Grattan first got into the limelight early in the 1927 season, ending successfully on the Grand Circuit and taking a record of 2:01, which was the best by a filly of the age that season. She was a sensation on the eastern half mile tracks early the past season and showed her real class when she beat the sensational Grattan Bars, a heat in the $25,000 pacing derby over the half-mile track at Windsor, Conn. She was scheduled to meet the great Canadian side-sweeper in the $10,000 Chamber of Commerce stake at Syracuse but the day before the race he pulled up lame and was retired for the season. The more met Winnipeg, Highland Scott and other stars in this event and finished second in the record-breaking heat of Winnipeg (1:59), the fastest race heat of the season. In that heat 1 timed Lonis Direct, which finished third, in 2:06. The mare beating him for the place.

Widow Grattan has been purchased undoubtedly by the Kalamazoo $25,000 derby and other rich Grand Circuit stakes in view. Hodson has been particularly successful in the past few seasons. In 1927 he raced Roy Abbe exclusively on the half-mile tracks of the east and won around $30,000 with him, the stallion leading all the pacing mare winners of the season. Under the money-making method of classification there were few places where he could race the past season, so Hodson prepared him for a fast record and at Lexington drove him to a record of 1:59. Many of the eastern railbirds believe that Widow Grattan is the best racing tool of the pair. The mare is a daughter of Grattan Royal which sired Grattan Bars, Louis Grattan, 2:00, Roy Grattan, 2:01, and other stars of the pacing world.

Sayings & Doings

Beatrice Harraden: "Hardly words have always comforted me. He would say that if one rose from one's writing desk at the end of a long session, not having written one word, but yet having striven in thought, one had done a full day's work."

Bishop of Willsden: "During the war the 'food hops' were justly held in contempt. The 'clauses' in America who boast of being able to get linear either on an act as worthy of condemnation. May they be brought to a better mind."

Edward P. Cheyney: "The anticipation of peace is one of the great guarantees of peace. What we anticipate we prepare for; what we prepare for, sooner or later we secure."

Dorothy Whitehead Hough: "The parent who goes adventuring with youth gains much self-discipline, learns more of self-control and enriches his own life immeasurably."

Thomas Guthrie Speers: "It is worth while occasionally to bring back to our minds some of the things which reveal the truth about war and which caused us to hope it never would come again. For there were so many fine things connected with the war that if we do not watch ourselves we easily slip into the attitude that thinks of it as somehow glorious."

ALBERTA WOMAN GETS SOME TURKEYS

What was perhaps the recent lack of turkey in the province caused 2,000 mammoth broiler birds which were raised in open range at Ardmore and brought Mrs. W. A. Freeman a gross revenue of around $5,000 last year, stated G. M. Corrie, Alberta poultry representative, in referring to the address made this year in turkey raising.

Charles brought Mrs. Freeman into turkey raising as she was the lucky holder of a contract that brought her a pair of turkeys four years ago. They were started home about the farm buildings and allowed to increase for the first couple of years. Last year some prize birds were purchased to improve the strain. No buildings are required for incubation for the raising of eggs a large flock, small "A" shaped cages are provided for the turkey hens, while their broods are placed. When the young pouls take to roosting, they are first turned into a two-acre enclosure, almost half covered with perches and protected from the winds by a high board fence on one side.

Early in the season Mrs. Freeman realized about $1,000 from the sale of hatching eggs, and later on an equal amount from the sale of brooding stock. Early in December she killed for market 1800 turkeys averaging in weight over ten pounds, and realized fancy prices. Mrs. Freeman is retaining a flock of 200 birds for brooding stock.—Market Examiner.

HEARD ON THE STREET

So interested were these two ladies in all they saw on their first visit to an airplane that they decided to go up for a short trip. Just as they were about to step into a machine, one turned and said to the pilot, rather tremulously:

"You will bring us back safely, won't you?"

"Of course I will," answered the pilot. "I've never left anybody up there yet."

At Camp Grant, during the war, the officers had difficulty in getting the proper salute from the men. Lecture followed lecture, but apparently to no avail.

A negro private met a captain one morning and greeted him with, "Howdy, Boss."

Followed a long tirade from the captain on the correct way to salute. The black private listened in silence, scratched his head and finally said:

"Boss, if Ah'd thought you was gwine git so sturbed about it, Ah wouldn't of spoke to you a-all."

The dear old lady was late at church, and entered as the congregation was rising to sing.

"Dear me," she said with a smile, "don't get up on my account!"

A careful housewife went into a grocer's shop to make a purchase of some eggs.

"How much a dozen are the eggs?" she inquired of the assistant.

Assistant: "One and six, madam, and a shilling the cracked ones."

Housewife: "Well, crack me a dozen, please."

Wife (scrutinizing husband): "Here am I ready and you have not shaved!"

Husband: "Oh yes, I have."

Wife: "Yes, but when?"

Husband: "When you said you were nearly ready."

Two men were seated in a railway carriage. As soon as the train started, one got up and opened the window.

After a few moments the other shut it. The first man immediately rose and opened it again.

"What are you playing at?" demanded the man who had shut the window.

"Drafts," said his companion.

Owner of Dog: "The man who sold him to me said he would fetch $50 any day."

Wife: "Well, tell him to fetch it now."

He: "You seem to be making an unusually large number of purchases in the shops."

She: "Yes, purposely. You see, I get discounts and the more I spend the more I save."

"My education cost me $800."

"Money doesn't go far these days, does it?"

Asked what he understood by "foreign entanglements," a schoolboy replied, "Spaghetti."

In days gone by the young men came around at midnight to serenade young women.

"That would never do today! a popular girl is hardly ever at home at that hour."

Mother (at dinner table): "Johnny, are you sure you washed your face?"

It does not look like that when I wash it.

"Johnny, 'Well, mother, if I rubbed it as hard as you do I'd push my self over."

Old Lady (at her first basketball game): "What are they chasing that ball for?"

Enthusiastic Son: "To see who can place it in the basket."

Old Lady: "That would be quite easy if they would get out of each other's way."

The astronomist was showing a young woman the heavens through his telescope. He directed her gaze to a planet which he told her was Venus.

"Oh, isn't that perfectly lovely!" she exclaimed—and then, "Now please show me Adonis."

Cop: "No fishing allowed here."

Jim Moran: "I'm not fishing. I'm just allowing this worm to hatch."

Cop: "Pull up your line till I see it."

Jim Moran: "Here it is."

Cop: "You are arrested for allowing it to hatch without a swimming costume."

Husband (fiercely): "I'll show you who's running this house!"

Wife: "You can't! It's her evening out."

Disapproving Husband (to deolite wife): "Those modern fashions leave me cold."

Wife: "Oh so, darling. You'll have to get me a new fur coat this winter."

MORE HEMP GROWN IN WESTERN CANADA

WINNIPEG.—As a result of agricultural and industrial operations in 1928, Western Canada would appear to be a step nearer the achievement of independence as regards its volume of hemp and cordage requirements. After experimenting successfully for some years a hemp growing and manufacturing industry got soundly under way in 1927 in Manitoba, some 700 acres being sown to this crop, 500 acres being about the town of Portage la Prairie, where the manufacturing plant was situated, and a variety of products turned out. In 1928, according to report, twice the acreage was sown to hemp and the yield received very good. The manufacturing company reports an increasing demand for its products and a growing interest on the part of farmers, so that in spite of certain discouragements encountered at the outset the hemp industry in Western Canada would appear to be well launched and to face a reasonably secure future.

New Plants Opened

The first indication of expansion has already evidenced itself, and the industry has crossed the border into Saskatchewan. During the year a plant was established at Rhein, in the eastern part of the province, and a considerable acreage of hemp was grown there and harvested in fine condition. During the winter farmers will break the hemp into bales in order to reduce bulk and freight charges and will ship the fibre to the spinning factory at Portage la Prairie. For 1929 the Saskatchewan growers are under contract to the manufacturing company at Portage la Prairie. It was anticipated that should the present season be successful a material increase in acreage would be made in 1929, and in this case a scutching machine might be installed at Rhein and part of the product shipped in the form of baled hemp to Ontario manufacturers.

A Valuable Crop

Although farmers appear to be quite satisfied and are finding hemp a valuable crop, which, in addition to giving profitable returns, cleans the land thoroughly for grain growing. According to the manager of the plant at Portage la Prairie this year's crop will pay the farmers better than wheat, and from year to year will prove as profitable as wheat owing to the local spinning factory and market. Interest in this crop is clearly spreading, so that in the case of extension of manufacturing no difficulty in securing sufficient acreage of the raw product is to be anticipated.

Farmers Satisfied with Product

Farmers are also being satisfied with the manufactured product. Hemp, to the production of which Western Canada has been proved eminently suited, is considered the most desirable of all cordage fibres, and is the principal one of the soft fibres used as being cheaper to produce. Hemp products have, however, scarcely been known in the West owing to their cost. With domestic production their use is becoming established and their popularity acquires an extensive utilization. Modern machinery specially designed for cutting and gathering hemp, which the manufacturing company in Manitoba loans to farmers, as well as the most modern machinery in the plant, has reduced the price of Canadian hemp rope to where it is about one-half of that made from imported hemp and considerably cheaper than the genuine and harsh manila.

NEW AUTO SPEED TEST

LONDON—Major H. O. D. Segrave revealed the details of his new 1,600-horsepower racing car, with which he hopes to shatter the existing automobile speed record of 207 miles an hour.

The car, which will be known as "The Golden Arrow," is to be shipped for shipment to Daytona, Florida, where Major Segrave thinks he will be able to hurdle along the beach at 240 miles an hour. With it will go a 1,000-horsepower motor boat, in which, Major Segrave says, he can do 100 miles an hour.

"I think the car will just do 240," said the Major, confidently. "It is an entirely new job, with a new 1,600-horsepower Napier engine. Every nut and bolt in it is British."

"In its designing and building we have incorporated many things I learned on my previous run, and from attempts made on others. My engine, for instance, is being effected by ice, instead of the ordinary water
